

News from the Library

A Newsletter of the Central Carolina Community College Libraries Vol. 12, No. 3

FALL 2012

NOOK Color eReaders are Here!

The eReaders will be ready for check out beginning September 4th for CCCC students and employees. Stop at the circulation desk for details about policies, agreements, and circulation procedures. Check in and check out procedures will take longer for these special resources, so allow for adequate time. Note: parents of all LEC students must co-sign the policies statement and agreement. A list of titles on the Nooks is available on the library web page in the library catalog section.

Online Research Guides are Coming!

These guides help researchers and students get started on a research strategy and aid in locating resources relevant to broad subject areas, academic disciplines, classes, and even specific assignments. The research guides are located in the Online Resources section of the library web page.

New Collaboratory Study Room Coming Soon at Lee Library.

We have converted one of our study rooms into a collaborative study room. For study groups needing multimedia resources to complete projects this room has a 40" touch screen computer, a TV with a DVD/VCR combo, and a White Board. The room table seats five. Check in at the circulation desk. Available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

New Look at the Harnett Campus Library

The library has been renovated and has more

Microform Scanner now at Lee Library

The Lee library has a new microform scanner for our historical and biographical collections on fiche and microfilm including the New York Times Newspaper (1851-2001). Users may save digital copies as an image or PDF, or print to the library printer outside the computer lab.

Mobile App for the Library Catalog Coming Soon! (via iLibrary)

Watch for the announcement regarding availability.

Integrated Searching of Databases & Catalog

A new meta-search service, EBSCO Integrated Search, is available on the library home page. One stop searching of multiple databases using one search query will save time and yield many results from which to choose, sort, and limit. Depending on which databases are selected, results may include multimedia resources. This new service will be available on the library home page.

More eVideos!

Thousands of videos have been added in three new Films on Demand subject categories: Science and Mathematics, Technical Education, and Family and Consumer Sciences.

Grant Money Purchases

New books purchased with grant money awarded to the CCCC library are now on display and ready for check out. Books & DVDs were purchased for:

CIT at Lee Campus Library

Laser Photonics Technology at Harnett Campus Library

Networking and Telecommunications Technology at the N.C School of Telecommunications

Electronics and Computer Engineering at Harnett and Lee Campus Libraries

Sustainability and Biofuels at the Chatham Campus Library

Database Spotlight

CQ Researcher Online (NC LIVE) is noted for its in-depth, unbiased coverage of health, social trends, criminal justice, international affairs, education, the environment, technology, etc.

Each 12,000-word report is researched and written by a journalist. The consistent, reader-friendly organization provides researchers with: an introductory overview; background and chronology on the topic; an assessment of the current situation; tables and maps; pro/con statements from representatives of opposing positions; and bibliographies of key sources.

For argumentative paper assignments, also try Points of View and TOPICsearch for information on current events, controversial issues, and discussion topics, including energy and environment, gay rights, global warming, gun control, immigration, and human rights.

NEED Help?

Academic Assistance Writing Center

The Academic Assistance Writing Center in collaboration with the library is accepting library referrals for all writing, term paper format, citation issues, tutoring, and learning computer applications. For help with research, come to the library.
